

Curriculum Intent: Art and Design

We want our pupils to have the confidence to truly express themselves through the process of creating, to gain access to cultural richness that art has to offer and foster an appreciation and enjoyment for art.

Through Art and Design at Kingham, we aim to provide pupils with the opportunity to express their ideas, build on their observational skills, gain confidence, and develop their creativity and imagination. We want our pupils to have the confidence to truly express themselves through the process of creating, to gain access to cultural richness that art has to offer and foster an appreciation and enjoyment for art.

Our curriculum allows children to build and refine their skills of drawing, painting and sculpting as well as experience using a range of media to create art, including ink, charcoal, paint, clay and wax.

Art and Design is strongly linked to other curriculum areas allowing opportunities to learn about influential artists, architects, and designers in history. We are fortunate enough to work with local professional artists and Kingham Lodge which has rejuvenated our curriculum and helped our children see art as not only a subject to enjoy but as a subject that can be a career.
